COMMUNITY COUNCIL PRESENTS A LEGACY OF SOUL Benefit Concert at College Park Auditorium

ATLANTA – July 17, 2009 - The Community Council of Metropolitan Atlanta, Inc. presents "Soulful Interludes", a legacy of soul music from the 50's, 60's and 70's on Saturday, August 8, 2009, 8:00 p.m. at the College Park Auditorium, 3631 Main Street, College Park, Georgia to benefit its community service programs.

This event will feature vocalists Reginald Dancil and Katina Barnes, dancer/choreographer Tracy V. Pierre (Butterfly), actress Denise Kirkland as Moms Mabley and the E-Z-Access Band. All proceeds will benefit the Community Council of Metropolitan Atlanta (CCMA), a 501 (c)(3) non profit organization. The CCMA sponsors the Priority Male Program, a free job readiness and life-skills program for young Black males, 18-28 years of age, the Man2Man Mentoring Program, and the "Live B4U Die Summit, a mock funeral and interactive forum designed to help teenagers and youth avoid destructive behavior and conduct that can destroy their lives. All CCMA programs are free.

Tax deductible donations are $25.00. Businesses and organizations in the metropolitan Atlanta area are invited to serve as Soulful Interludes Sponsors to benefit CCMA community service programs. Please call (404) 935-5859 for additional information.
